THE WESTERN CAMPS.

CHAPTER IV.

We started from Melincue at nine o'clock in the night and arrived at Mr. Turner'son the 'Venado Tuerto' at half-past two in the morning, where we found a grand banquet spread for us. Nothing could be more dreary than this midnight drive, and we should have probably lost our way in these wide open camps, but that we had Mr Turner with us, and the lights from the windows of his two-storeyd estancia house were distinguished for at least three leagues: Shakespeare's beautiful lines about the little candle at once occurred to us, but the only one of our party who could help us in the quotation was Miss Fair, who we found stronger in Shakespearean quotations than most young ladies. The beams of the candles in Mr Turner's house lighted us along the road to Mr. John Murphy's wire-fence, which when we once made, enabled us to grope our way in the dark to the estancia house.

Next morning, in spite of the great fatigue of the previous day's journey, we were all up with the lark, and if it was a task for Mrs Turner to supply so large a party with beds, it was just as great a job for her husband to supply us all with horses. Mr Turner, however, seemed equal to any emergency. The day was so intensely hot, and the Sirroco blowing from the Armstrong camps so burning, that we preferred to remain quiet and allowed Mr. J. B. Gahan, with Messrs Galbraith, Klappenbach, O'Farrell and others to start on a hunting expedition without us; they returned at night laden with peludos, deer and mulitos; that night there was a ball at the estancia house, Mrs. Turner's piano proving a happy element; dancing was kept up until 1 o'clock, when the party retired.

The next day we all started for Loreto to view the camps and the old Spanish fort which, in days that are long over, was the scene of so many fights, battles, invasions, etc. We had eight leagues to make, and drove through an open prairie camp, dotted here and there with squatters' huts, and on all the hills and at every cañada we met cattle. People from Baradero, Giles, Mercedes, San Pedro—in fact, from all parts—were temporarily squatted here with their sheep and cattle, the only difficulty to be overcome being the jaguel and rancho, the grasses being superabundant everywhere. We saw parties from the Baradero who had saved everything by coming out with their sheep and cattle to these virgin lands. The camps, however, seemed to me far better for cattle than sheep, although I must confess that the very splendid condition of Mr. Turner's sheep removed every prejudice on this head.

We reached the old fort of Loreto at 11 a.m., and found here the ruins of a very large "fortin"; the red walls are of brick, and the "fosse" is also bricked. Whoever buys this lot will have bricks enough on the land to build a good estancia house. The fort is on a hill, with a commanding view of the surrounding country. We could see away in the distance a single estancia monte; it belongs to a Sr. Purreydon, who has held out there for years, and with great success. Last winter he supplied the Buenos Ayres market with fat cattle.

The camps hereabouts looked very dry, but the grasses are high and are composed of pasto fuerte, cardo, cardilla, trevol de olor, and wild peas in great abundance, called "alberjella." All the camps bore the evidence of having been stocked; and the place, from the earliest records, was a favourite resort of the Indians, as the lagoons about a league ahead from the fort in former years were immense water wastes; to-day they are as dry as a limeburner's wig.

At this celebrated fort, 130 years ago, General Arrascaete fought the Indians for a whole day and routed them; and every sod we trod on was an Indian's or a soldier's sepulchre.

Mr. Casey had lunch, or breakfast, spread on the green sward that now covers this ancient battle-field. After lunch I started on horseback with Mr. Fair, Mr Casey and Mr Grant to have a look at the dried-up lakes. The camps in the neighbourhood of those lagoons seemed very superior, and, spite of the great seca, were green and very pastoso. We saw a large 'rodeo' of cattle; Mr. Casey and Mr. Farrel started off to have a look at them. We declined, being mounted on a 'recado' instead of English saddle, but we saw enough of the camp and of the stock on it to form our opinion of both. To oblige an English broker in Buenos Aires, we measured the natural depth of black earth, and found it to average 28 to 30 inches. In the south, even on the Rio Negro, I have not seen such a rich black soil, and all these lands about Venado Tuerto, Loreto and Melincue present the same rich, fertile, black soil, which leaves no room to doubt that with the plough they will grow anything. Mr. Turner has ploughed up a large tract with a view to refining, and with eminent success, and the farmer who starts with, say, 300 cows and 1,000 sheep is on the highroad to fortune, since he has no high rent to pay, and every improvement he makes gives new value to his own. It was evening when we returned to Mr. Turner's from the Fort of Loreto. We drove for miles along Mr. Turner's wire fence. Two years ago all these Venado Tuerto lands were without even a ñanduibay post. To-day they are stocked, settled and wire fenced as the lands of Arrecifes. We could hardly realize that in so short a time, so great a change could be effected. Mr. John Murphy's land, some six leagues wired fenced, adjoins Mr. Turner's. We met on the road cattle and sheep coming out for this land. They were building a large 'jaguel' with 'noria,' etc. Further on is the great Belgian estancia; the deer were runing wild on this land when we were out there in 1881; to-day mestizo Durham cows feed on the green hills. We really know of no place in the whole country that presents greater signs of improvement than these Venado Tuerto lands, and what these lands are now, the Loreto camps, if they fall into the right hands, will be in another year.

PROVINCIAL LANDS.

The Executive Government of this province has yet 500 square leagues of public lands, which will soon fall into the hands of speculators or capitalists if the present system of selling off lands by auction be observed. Both speculator and capitalist turn these lands to little account; the former awaits an opportunity to sell at a profit the land, which must double in value before the final payment for same is made to the Government; the latter may also have speculative abilities, but he as a rule lets the lands to a tenant, whose sole object is to make money out of the lease without attempting to improve the wild state of the property. Thus neither speculator nor capitalist improves the land, which in the hands of 'bona-fide' settlers and investors might have been ploughed, stocked, improved and turned to account.

An American writer has lately published a book in which he shews the great losses to the nation entailed by the tremendous speculation in lands carried on in New York and other commercial centres. An Argentine writer, who no doubt had read the American book, expatiated on the subject in the columns of the newspapers. The Argentine writer in question had once an opportunity of putting these sound views with regard to land into execution, but then alas! he was a younger man and knew nothing of the subject of which he so ably treats to-day. But the men who are now in power might take a leaf out of this book and carry out practically what has been set down theoretically.

The sub-division of property is acknowledged to one of the best guarantees of the wealth and production of a country. Thus there is an immense difference between one hundred square leagues of land, owned by one man and inhabited by one thousand tenants and between 100 square leagues of land in the hands of one thousand, or five hundred, small proprietors. The tenant will do all he can to get the utmost out of the land, but the proprietor will do his utmost to improve the land. The difference between the interests of the tenant and those of the proprietors are immense in every country, but in no country as much as in the Argentine Republic.

A landed magnate in this country generally possesses one hundred square leagues of lands in lots of tens and twenties. In Buenos Aires there are many men who own from 250,000 to 500,000 acres of land; one half of this land as a rule is perfectly waste and lies idle, because the owners are too well off to miss the capital and the interests thereof invested in same. An estanciero with an estancia of say 10 leagues square in an inside partido will buy 50 leagues of outside camp, which he does not intend to stock and which he may perhaps rent very cheap to any party interested in the matter. Thousands of leagues of outside lands are lying waste simply because the Government knew not how to discriminate in the sale of same. If poor men had bought these cheap lands, they would have been stocked ere this, but speculation began, prices of land ran up, and the owners asks fancy prices of from 50,000 to 500,000 m/c for lands which cost them only 10,000 m/c.

There are 600,000 inhabitants in the province of Buenos Aires, and it would strike the observer that in a country where land is so cheap and labor so remunerative, that every fourth or fifth man at least would be a proprietor as happens in France. But the contrary is the case: Will it be credited? There are not 50,000 proprietors in the province of Buenos Aires, although there are thousands of leagues of land lying waste. Thus there is only one proprietor for every 12 souls of this province, whilst in France there is one per every 6 inhabitants. This is a great evil, but is merely embryonic, since in all probabilities ten years hence there will be only one proprietor per twenty-five inhabitants of the province. Capitalists are buying all the lands of this province, and an Argentine land question threatens to be the upshot of the evil.

The Provincial Government should pay attention to these facts, and instead of selling these lands at speculative prices, the Government should sell same at very low rates in chacra lots of 200 squares; thus the industrious emigrant can plough the land and also graze stock. The Government might also let the land at low rates; this would be by far the best and most provident policy. There would be no taxes necessary if former Governments had adopted this policy of renting instead of selling public lands. The land no doubt belongs to the people, but better far to have the Government as landlord than the speculator or the proprietor of principalities or immature Kingdoms.

This land question will become one of the most serious danger in the future; a glance at the inside camps will prove that the dangers inherent to the present system are not far off. Land near town is getting so dear that sheepfarming no longer pays any interest on the capital; the chacarero takes up the land and pays an exorbitant price per square; a little farther out sheepfarming is reduced to such a close shave that the puestero cannot pay the rent if the season is not satisfactory; and with such facts staring us in the countenance the Government is selling its land to speculators, who put on the screw on the poor man as heavily as the estanciero in the inside partidos. The poor man cannot become a proprietor if he cannot get land in Lincoln or at the ditch of Alsina under 250,000 and 500,000 m/c. The value of land is rising in every district of this province; the rise is the consequence of increased population and increased stock; the chacareros are advancing with high rents from the city, the sheepfarmer is pushed with high rents outside, and the estanciero has to put the surplus of his 'rodeos' on new camps or sell the animals to men who intend to start cattle-grazing. This rise is the opportunity of the wealthy men to buy up the land available at a convenient distance from this city; this explains the rise of land in the province and the extraordinary fact that such large tracts are held and not utilized, because the owner is too well off and has no need of turning them to account.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

HOME NEWS.

Feb. 2, 1883.

As many suspected, the Moderates in the Cabinet are to have it their own way in the coming Session of Parliament. Mr. Chamberlain himself, in his speech at Swansea, hast just prepared us for a "quiet Session." No Land Bill, no County Franchise—nothing but arrears; such as Bankruptcy Bills, Corrupt Practices, Criminal Codes, etc., with one big thing—the reform and extension of the Municipal Government of the City of London.

Who do you think is to be the new Lord Mayor? Mr. Bradlaugh. No; guess again. The Duke of Westminster! and a very nice little Lord Mayor he'll make.

Of course, the great question, both for England, Scotland, and Ireland, after the land question, is that of County Government which, as it exists, is precisely one of those feudal remains we hear so often about, without some of us being able to explain what is meant. As an M.P. the county gentleman makes the laws, and as a J.P. he administers them—sometimes to the advantage of the people, and always to that of the hares.

It has been thought in the Cabinet that if a new Reform Bill is to be introduced it is only fair that the County Government question should be discussed by the representatives of the newly enfranchised county constituencies; and, that if an attempt be made this session to so doctor the Agricultural Holdings Act that it shall look like a new Tenant-right Bill for England and Scotland, the more burning questions can wait until the Parliament is older and more inclined for a dissolution. That is all quite right. The Derbys, the Harcourts and the Hartingtons are quite willing to let things slide, on the chance of a European war or something turning up that may give the landed interest another lease of existence. The Radicals console themselves with the idea that the longer reform is postponed the bigger will be the slice when it comes. In that they are right. Once this nationalization of the land notion takes root—I see M. Reclus, the great geographer, approves it as the sole panacea—it will be difficult now to content the people with the mere abolition of entails and settlements, which ten years ago would have been hailed, as the Times would have said, as a final and radical measure of reform for this generation and the next. How true it is that excesses are not committed by revolutionists, but by their opponents. If we are to relapse into barbarism, as they tell us, whose is the fault? M. de Lavaleye has shewn us that nationalisation of the land is only possible in England, where the existing land laws are defended by and for a handful of men. The Scotch landowners who have property in the Highlands have just had a meeting in London, and, as the dailies say, nothing could exceed the judiciousness of tone in the remarks made. The resolution passed was that the Government should not allow the law to be enforced against the Skye crofters by military aid until the crofters had time to consider terms that would be offered and arranged by arbitration.

It seems that the Government had already refused military aid to the Inverness magistrates—nemo me impune lacessit. Has it come to that? Shall we tread on the shamrock and fight shy of the thistle? "Police," shout the English landlords in Ireland. "No. no, no," say the Scotchmen "for God's sake, mou, let us have no legislative intervention. Let us keep what we have got, even if we just get no rent for a wee bit."

There is a complete scare at last on this land question. I am glad to have lived to see it.

Dear "Edmund" has got into trouble. A fine joke for "Henry." Lord Lonsdale has commenced a prosecution against the World for libel.

The libel in question did not mention Lord Lonsdale by name, but alluded to certain facts which made the identity as certain as if the name had been mentioned. The libel complained of was in these terms:—

"A strange story is in circulation in sporting circles concerning the elopement of a young lady of very high rank and noble birth, with a young peer, whose marriage was one of affection, but whose wife has unfortunately fallen into a delicate state of health. The elopement is said to have taken place from the hunting-field. The young lady, who is only one or two and twenty, is a fair rider, and the gentleman a master of hounds."

Lord Lonsdale was only twenty-six years of age, he was a master of hounds, and his wife had fallen into a delicate state of health. There were but five masters of hounds below the age of thirty, Lord Lonsdale being one. Another was unmarried, and the three remaining were Lords Pembroke, Rossmore and Guildford, and there were affidavits which established the fact that their wives were in perfect health. He had also the affidavits of several noble lords who stated that on reading the paragraph they all came to the conclusion that Lord Lonsdale only could fulfill the conditions in the paragraph as to his lordship's identity. Application was made by his lordship's solicitor to the editor of the World asking for the authority on which he made the statement complained of, to which he replied through his solicitor that the editor was astonished that the paragraph should be thought to apply to Lord Lonsdale, but that it applied to another person whose name he did not give. Nothing had been done by the World to retract the paragraph, but it had been allowed to go forth without the slightest explanation or correction. There was not a word of truth in the scandalous imputation.

The Court granted a rule.

Has Edmund been fibbing?

It is understood that although the defendants in the Belt libel case got a rule nisi for a new trial, no further proceedings will be taken.

The new Law Courts are even abused by our loyal friend, the Daily Telegraph. People can neither see nor hear in the Royal Courts of Justice. The edifice, it is to be hoped, is the last example of the wretched sentimental and mediæval revival that was rife thirty years ago, when everyone went in for the Gothic. Poor Lord Palmerston stood out against it for a long time, but he was overruled by the ladies, the Beresford Hopes, and other portions of humanity with treble voices.

I have already told you of the scare amongst the leading barristers in regard to the new rules. The committee of judges have already made a rule that the loser in an action shall pay the costs of only one of the opposing counsel. This is not thought to be enough by the junior bar, who seem determined to prevent the Q.C.'s from getting all the fees while they do the work. As you know very well, the juniors who do the work for the Q.C.'s are called their "devils." Whilst these "latter" are fighting for themselves they will, it is to be hoped, reform the whole system which makes law so expensive and unsatisfactory when one has to pay for work not done, or done by "deputies;"

The inquiry in Dublin comes on again to-morrow. Great things are expected, and we are inundated with information from Fenians on Fenianism. The air is full of informers.

To find the murderers of Mr. Burke and Lord F. Cavendish and the assaulters of Mr. Field, would be something. So far, the detectives who have come over to find the "knives" and evidence in London, Sheffield and other places do not appear to have been successful. But Irishmen, who know all about it, tell me it is serious. A nest has been found, but whether the whole business of Fenianism—barring the assassination club—is of the importance the Government affect to attach to it, is a matter of doubt.

The Brazilian Loan, as you will have heard, has, after hanging fire at first, turned out a success. Messrs Rothschild brought out the Loan as Messrs Baring might a Buenos Aires, without any further syndicate or commission, or jobbing, and treated direct with the investing pubic. Why should Brazil borrow at 4 and 4½ and 5 per cent. and you pay 6?

The Times announces that the London Docks are about to raise their dues. That is unhandsome, when some steamship companies have just brought their depots from Southampton to London.

The latest "tragic incident" reported from Texas is the shooting of Mr. John Stroup, a young planter, in a ball-room at a house near Dallas, by another young planter, Mr. Frank Bullington. It seemed that Bullington was not invited to the ball, but decided on being present, and got a friend to accompany him. The two unbidden guests entered the ball-room in the midst of a dance, and announced that, although not invited, they had come "to run the dance." Stroup pointed out to them the impropriety of their conduct; but almost before he had finished his remonstrance Bullington drew a revolver and shot him through the heart, killing him instantaneously. In the commotion which followed Bullington and his friend managed to escape from the house, and mounting their horses, which where standing outside, galloped off in the darkness. By latest accounts the entire neighbourhood had turned out, and were searching for the fugitives in every direction. Bullington, his friends assert, must have been drinking more than was good for him, or he never would have killed Stroup, for whom he entertained a sincere regard. Stroup's friends, however, are not satisfied with this excuse, and declare they will kill Bullington if they can find him.

LONQUIMAY.

Something has at last been published in reference to the Lonquimay affair. The following is Gen. Villegas's note to the Chilian Commander—

Collan Cura, Jan. 25th, 1883

To Colonel Gregory Urrutia, commanding the Southern army.

Sir

Colonel Godoy, commanding the 2nd Brigade of my Division, has informed me of your note dated Villarico, 17th inst, and, in reply, I beg to say that, if it prove true that some prisoners and cattle have been captured on Chilian territory, the first shall be instantly set free and the latter restored to their owners. I beg you to so inform the parties interested, that they may come to my camp here, or to that of the Third Brigade at Nahuel Huapi, to prove their claims, and their animals shall be at once restored to them.

Supposing the intelligence you send me to be a fact, I greatly deplore it, because, as I told you in my previous letter, and as you can see by the instructions I have given to my Chiefs of Brigade, I strictly forbade them to cross the Chilian frontier, as such were the orders of my Government, which, as you know, has always acted loyally, and I and my officers are in no way inclined to assume serious responsibilities that might endanger the good relations existing between the two republics.

Col. Godoy has also shown me the answer he sent to your note, and, through it and another document, which he has sent me, I have learned that an officer in pursuit of Indian marauders, and without any practical knowledge as to where the frontier line is, crossed it, just as another, fully provided with technical instruments, has been found in the heart of our territory, making sketches of it. The Chilian officer to whom I refer is Mr Francisco Oyarzun, and he was sent by Commander Dronilly.

Colonel Godoy, remembering my orders in case our troops should meet with those of Chile, has not taken any proceedings against said officer, as he had a perfect right to do, as the sketches which said officer took were illegitimately acquired, through a violation of territory.

Before commencing the movement in which my division is now engaged, I wrote to General Saavedra, that it was quite possible that, during the operations, small parties of my forces might cross the frontier, as I had to explore the Pass of Varelochi and others to see if the communication between both Republics could be improved; but, as you will well understand, Colonel, there is a vast difference between a mere reconnoissance and a scientific survey, and, in the name of the Argentine Republic, I protest, in my turn, against the conduct of a Chilian officer in command of armed forces. I am sorry, Colonel, to be obliged to thus protest, but it is my duty, and I should be false to it and the sovereignty of my country if I did not do so.

I have ordered the Brigades to suspend their movements, and shall confine myself in future to occupying positions that will ensure the punishment of the Indian thieves we have driven from our territory, should they attempt to return.

I am fully aware that the Cacique Nancheu and others have taken refuge in Chilian territory, and, as they will be a permanent danger for us, I venture to ask you, Monsieur le Colonel, to inform them that they can return to our territory, with their lives and subsistence guaranteed by our Government, and with a free amnesty for past differences, if they chose to settle down at Chimehuin, where we intend to keep a strong detachment.

As I am disposed to do everything in my power to promote civilization and our frontier interests, you will always find me ready to act with you towards said end, and, thanking you for your confidence in my intentions, I beg you to believe in the respect and esteem of

Your friend and faithful servant,

Conrado E. Villegas.

MRS. LANGTRY AND HER ADMIRER.

CHALLENGE TO A DUEL.

A St. Louis despatch in the New York Times, dated Jany. 19, says that a wonderful amount of excitement has been caused there by a challenge sent by Major A B Cunningham, a reporter on the staff of the Globe Democrat, to Mr Gebhardt. The cause of the challenge arose out of the visit of Mrs Langtry, who was accompanied by Mr Gebhardt, who is described as her "devoted attendant." The newspapers kept the public fully posted upon their doings and their goings and comings, their dress, talk, and meals being chronicled, and more or less authentic interviews with them being published. One morning the Globe Democrat contained what purported to be a diagram of the respective apartments of the actress and her cavalier, a publication which caused them both much pain and evoked from Mr Gebhardt the promise that he would personally chastise the next reporter of that paper who attempted to visit him or Mrs Langtry. They had both been called upon the day before by Major Cunningham, who passed a pleasant time with them, and published what he heard and saw in very conservative shape. In the evening, while he was in the rotunda of the Southern Hotel, he was called upon by Mr Gebhardt, who charged him with being responsible for all the vileness that had been published regarding himself and Mrs Langtry. Major Cunningham declined to accept the responsibility, when Mr Gebhardt lost his temper and swore at and insulted Cunningham grossly, and challenged him to a fist encounter in the ladies' parlour. Major Cunningham, who has an unimpeachable record for courage, and served with great credit in the Confederate Army during the war as a cavalry officer, kept his temper, and informed Mr Gebhardt that he appreciated the fact that he had been insulted, and that Mr Gebhardt would hear from him the following day. Mr Gebhardt wanted to insist upon a fist fight, and told Major Cunningham he could knock him out in one round, but Major Cunningham informed him that he was not a pugilist, and that he would soon give him (Gebhardt) an opportunity to select gentlemen's weapons with which their difficulty could be settled. Mr Gebhardt did not reply to this proposition, but continued to apply opprobrious epithets to Major Cunningham, who suffered himself to be led off by his friends.

This ended the evening trouble, and next day the major sent a challenge to Mr. Gebhardt. This challenge was delivered when Mr. Gebhardt was in the company of his fair enslaver, who, divining the nature of its contents, insisted upon seeing the letter. Mr. Gebhardt declined positively to surrender the letter, but the lady became hysterical, and he consented. When she read the letter, which contained an invitation to Mr. Gebhardt to accompany Major Cunningham, with seconds, to the Indian territory, she regained her composure fully, and bent all her energies to securing his promise not to take any notice of the challenge. Finally the perturbed fair one was forced to the irresistible resource of asking Mr. Gebhardt to ignore the challenge for her sake. After a long struggle Mr. Gebhardt consented to pay no attention to the challenge. Major Cunningham thereupon carried out his threat to post Gebhardt as a coward for not having accepted the challenge and giving him a chance to secure satisfaction. Mr. Gebhardt was called upon by the Times correspondent. He acknowledged that he had received a challenge from Major Cunningham the evening before. "What did you do with the challenge, Mr. Gebhardt?" said the correspondent. "I handed it back to the gentleman who brought it, telling him that was sufficient answer. Cunningham insulted me by publishing an interview which never occurred. Under the circumstances there was nothing left for me to do but to brand him as a liar. The first time that occasion offered I did this, and at the time of the occurrence he made no effort to refute the charge. That was the time he should have spoken if he had aught to say, and that was the time he should have fought if there was any fight in him. I have no reason for fighting him now, and I will pay no attention to any challenge he may send, or any card he may publish; but should he cross my path and assume a hostile bearing towards me, I will act promptly. You may depend upon that." It is stated that Mr Gebhardt armed himself before he approached Major Cunningham in the hotel rotunda, and that he is still ready for any emergency that may arise. Major Cunningham's friends state that he intends to seek satisfaction in another way, and it was hinted that he would assault Mr. Gebhardt on sight, but he was persuaded not to do this. Major Cunningham's intimate friends believe that if Mr. Gebhardt does not leave the city at once a tragedy will be the outcome of their quarrel.

HOW THE WORLD TREATS ITS GREAT MEN.

Homer was a beggar: Plautus turned a mill; Terence was a slave; Boethius died in jail; Paul Borghezo had fourteen trades, and yet starved with them all; Tasso was often distressed for five shillings; Bentivoglio was refused admittance into an hospital he had himself erected; Cervantes died for hunger; the celebrated writer of the "Lusiad" ended his days, it is said, in an almshouse, and at any rate was supported by a faithful black servant, who begged in the streets of Lisbon for the only man in Portugal on whom God had bestowed those talents which have a tendency to erect the spirit of a man in Portugal on whom God had bestowed those talents which have a tendency to erect the spirit of a downward age; Velas left his body to the surgeons to pay his debts as far as the money would go; Bacon lived a life of meanness and distress; Raleigh died on the scaffold; Spencer died in want; the death of Collins was through neglect, first causing mental derangement; Milton sold his copyright of "Paradise Lost" for £15, at three payments, and finished his life in obscurity; Dryden lived in poverty and distress; Otway died prematurely, and through hunger; Lee died in the street; Steel lived a life of perfect warfare with bailiffs; Goldsmith's "Vicar of Wakefield" was sold for a trifle to save him from the grip of the law; Savage died in prison at Bristol, where he was confined for a debt of £8; Butler lived a life of penury, and died poor; Chatterton, the child of genius and misfortune, destroyed himself.

BIG PROFITS OF STREET BEGGING.

Happening to pass through Fourteenth street yesterday afternoon I noticed an intelligent looking man with an empty sleeve. He was begging—a common enough sight in New York—but this beggar was an æsthete. He was sitting beside a huge music box that probably cost $100, and in front of it was a handsome poodle dog, carefully combed and trimmed, and in his mouth a small basket. The man had a soldier's cap in his hand and the group was an effective and artistic one. Curious to see how the dodge succeeded, I stood aside for a few minutes and saw fully half a dollar dropped in pennies and nickels by the ladies who were passing, all evidently attracted by the fine face of the beggar, the clean looking dog and the musical strains of the tireless box as it jingled out an aria from 'Somnambula.' No one stopped to consider that beggars are not supposed to be able to buy $100 music boxes, but every tender-hearted woman dropped her mite and passed on, thinking she had done a charitable action. Two hours afterwards I passed the beggar and found him still scooping in the nickels at a furious rate. No doubt he realised eight to ten dollars before sunset. There is a story extant of a man who tried unsuccessfully to get employment, and at length sat down on the curbstone, exhausted by fatigue and hunger. He fell asleep and his hat slipped from his head and lay upturned beside him. When he awoke he found nearly a dollar in small coin in the hat, and, seeing that begging was profitable, sat on the same spot day after day with his hat before him. So well did he succeed he was able at last to go out west and purchase a farm. It is quite true and the man is living still. In fact, begging is a profession, and men and women stand in the dust asking for alms who are really richer than those who bestow them. The superintendent of police once pointed out an old man to me who, he said, owned a whole row of dwellings up town, the rents of which were over $15,000 per annum, and all this valuable property had been paid for by begging.—New York paper.

EDITOR'S TABLE

We won't say one word about the heat yesterday. Better not. "While memory holds its seat," etc. Not the least sign of rain. The passengers by the Congo had a roast-turkey look when going off. They all carried white "ombrelles."

General Villegas's letter to the Chilian commander in reference to the Lonquimay affair will be found in another column. It is a "tu quoque" business, faults on both sides, and, perhaps, so much the better, as it will be the easier patched up.

We received our London Letters by the Arica and French mail yesterday. There is something loose in some Post Office, here or in Europe, that they should reach us together. But, never mind; they are always welcome.

Although the bare thought of any thing theatrical is enough to give one a fit this broiling weather, it is a herald of the approaching end of summer to see our indefatigable and philanthropic amateur friend Mr William Martin preparing to again take the field on which he has won so many victories. We hear that he has now in preparation for Easter week a cosmopolitan performance—an English piece, a Spanish piece, and a small concert—in the Colon or National Theatre, for the benefit of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals which, we are sorry but not surprised to hear, is most unpleasantly hard up, and kind-hearted Mr M. has cheerfully acceded to a request to 'give it a lift.' He has also in view for the coming winter another entertainment that will command far wider sympathy amongst his countrymen here, as it will be with the view of opening a Fund for the founding of an Asylum and School for English-speaking Orphan Boys of whom there are over 2,000 in our camps, growing up wild, without any education or moral training. This noble initiative commends itself to us all and will increase, if that be possible, the general regard and esteem felt for Mr William Martin by all classes of our community.

We are requested to state that the afternoon sermons in the Chapel of the Passionist Fathers will be resumed on Sunday next. There will be a Special Service on St. Patrick's Day (to-morrow week) when Dean Monsignor Dillon will preach, and a collection will be made to defray the cost of the new altar. Mr Edward Casey has endowed the Chapel with an organ, a beautiful instrument of the best make.

Our last exchanges from Panama are to January 25th. The Ecuador revolutionists have finally triumphed, and Alfaro is to be Supreme Dictator. (The old story—"out of the frying pan into the fire") Guatemala has settled its Boundary Question with Mexico, and all the cluster of small republics near the Line appear to prosper fairly just at present.

A teacher reading part of the "Merchant of Venice" with his class, asked what Shylock meant when he said, "My deeds upon my head." "Well," said one of the pupils, "I don't know, unless he carried his papers in his hat."

There must be a good many Italians in Paraguay, as 2,000 pats were recently collected in Asuncion for the sufferers by the floods in Italy. The yerba and tobacco crops in Paraguay are said to be splendid this year.

A dozen or two of "cafes" of very doubtful reputation were summarily closed by the Police on Wednesday. The "dueños" and "dueñas" made an awful fuss, but had to shut up, both their shops and their 'bocas.'

The papers announce a curious demand for separation now before the Curia. The wife is plaintiff, on the ground that her husband is such an enormous eater that nothing is left for herself and children. The defendant is such a prodigious size, owing to his ferocious appetite, that, if he lived in the United States, he would be elected President of the Fat Men's Club by acclamation.

There was very little news yesterday. Change was as quiet as a Quakers' meeting; nothing doing or to be done. The papers were full of rubbish—always the case in hot weather.

An old bacheler recently gave the following toast:—"Women; the morning star of infancy, the day star of manhood, the evening star of age. Bless our stars, and may they always be kept at a telescopic distance."

The West Coast advices by the Valparaiso say that the peace-at-any-price party in Peru is gaining ground rapidly, that Chile will get what she wants, and the war will soon be over. Chile is about to establish first class Legations in Rio and Montevideo.

The famous Smeredy is again in hot water, in his native land. The Austrian Foreign Office has applied for copies of all the documents in connection with his famous trial here.

In reference to the rumoured loss of the Copernicus, the Telegrafo Maritimo says:—"Telegrams received in Rio Janeiro say that the British steamer Copernicus ran ashore at Punta das Pedras, 25 miles north of Pernambuco. She was getting her cargo out to lighten her, and there were hopes of saving her. The passengers and crew did not suffer in any way."

The Montevidean Rowing Club announces swimming races for the 14th and 15th inst.—two of 100 yards, and one of half a mile. The Challenge Cup prize is a magnificent piece of Plate, and all the good swimmers in the Mount now pass half their day in the water, practising for the struggle to win it.

"Is the howling of a dog always followed by a death?" asked a little girl of her father. "Not always, my dear; sometimes the man that shoots at the dog misses him," was the parent's reply.

A heroic act was performed in Montevideo the other day by a little fellow named Metz, aged 10, who, seeing another boy of his own age in imminent danger of drowning, plunged into the water and saved his life. So much for teaching little boys to swim and never to be afraid. Master Metz would get the Royal Humane Society's medal, if he were a British subject. Bravo little fellow! Stick to that kind of pluck through life, and you'll do well.

Another railway accident on Wednesday—at the Constitucion Station—where a peon was desperately injured by some waggons going over his arms. He died at night in the British Hospital.

There was a scare in a family residence in Calle Moreno early yesterday morning, owing to the drawing-room ceiling falling in with a terrible crash. It was discovered that the rafters were rotten. All the grand furniture and "articles de Paris" in the room were knocked into smash.

La Spelterini is engaged for the coming opera season in Montevideo. This charming singer is pleasantly remembered on this side of the river.

We were asked yesterday when the next chapter of The Chronicles of Little Peddlington may be expected. We really cannot say, but believe the author is on his honeymoon trip, which émply accounts for his pitching the "Chronicles" overboard.

The Argentine Yacht Club will go on cruise with its whole fleet during Easter Week, up the Uruguay. The Commodore's ship is the cutter Alice, a trim little craft of 22 tons.

Mr Biekhert, the great Beer man left yesterday for California where he has an engagement to breakfast with a friend in San Francisco on a certain day in April.

Mr Thomas Drysdale had a long interview yesterday with Dr. Wilde, Minister of Education, on the subject of establishing a School for the Blind in this city, for which Mr D. promises to provide a Director from Madrid. The Minister promised to bring the matter

Ayer's Hair Vigour
(A DESIDERATUM)

For restoring the Natural Vitality and Colour of the Hair.

Prepared according to scientific and physiological bases with the object of bettering the condition of the hair, it stimulates the enfeebled glands of the scalp into healthy action, arrests the falling of the hair and promotes its luxuriant growth; rendering it soft, youthful and glossy.

This excellent preparation, the best and without doubt the only one as a remedial agent for the many defects and diseases to which the hair is subject, calls for and merits the most serious attention of all those who have had the misfortune to lose partially this most beautiful and natural ornament. AYER'S HAIR VIGOUR employed intelligently has obtained really surprising results. Faded or grey hair it restores to its original colour; and lost hair is often, but not always, reproduced.

It has always PREVENTED FALLING of the hair; whilst as a dressing ladies say it is the most agreeable as it is the most beneficent. Containing neither dye nor oil, it does not soil the finest cambric.

The Rev. Mr. Smith
Testimonial Fund.

At the General Meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Buenos Ayres, held on the 31st January, 1883, attention was called to the near approach of the time when the Rev. James Smith's official connection with the Church and people of Buenos Ayres would cease. The propriety of some manifestation being made by the Community on this occasion, to mark its appreciation of a life's work, having been mooted and unanimously recognised, it was resolved that such manifestation should assume the form of a pecuniary gift to the Rev. Gentleman, and a Committee was at the same time nominated with the view of carrying such resolution into effect.

In pursuance of this resolution, the Committee beg to inform the Community who sympathise with them in the matter, that Subscription Lists for signatare will be found at the undermentioned places.

Other Lists will be forwarded to some of the outlying districts of Buenos Ayres and the Oriental Republic. Members residing at a distance, desirous of taking part in this manifestation, and who may not have access to any of these List-sheets, can obtain them upon application to the Honorary Secretary, David Methven jun., Calle Reconquista 89, who will also be ready to receive any particular subscription towards the same object up to March 15th, prox.

ON 'CHANGE.

March 8th, 1883

Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100⅛
Cedulas E	85⅜
National Bank Shares	103 ex div.
Municipal Bonds 6 o/o	84

The heat on 'Change this morning was so excessive that it was with difficulty the ring was formed. At times in the day there were not half a dozen brokers at the rail. Business in stocks was at a dead pause. Most of the brokers sat on chairs at the door, it being about the coolest place in the building.

The news that the Lord Mayor protests against the erection of the new Bolsa on the proposed site was much talked of. The brokers and merchants do not see what jurisdiction the Lord Mayor has in the matter, since the Bolsa is a private institution, and its members have already refused point blank to have anything to do with an official Bolsa; yet the subject gives rise to much conversation.

Gold we may quote at par although sovereigns are at 1¼ premium. The news on 'Change is that next month the Provincial Bank begins to convert its specie notes, thus anticipating the conversion law by some two months.

The clearance of the French mail was the business of the day; the Congo left with a heavy mail and crowded with passengers. Dr Fresco, correspondent of the Nacion, sailed in her. The amount of exchange passed for this mail is very variously estimated; some brokers say that all the bills in the market were taken, and the applications at the Provincial Bank very heavy, whilst others say that there is plenty of exchange in the market at present rates.

The news from the U. States is splendid; several telegrams have come to the houses announcing a reduction of the duties on fine unwashed wools; the reduction is, we understand 2 cents a pound, and this will bring the American buyers into the market, which is capital news for our farmers.

Telegrams from the West announce tremendous camp-fires in Lincoln, leagues on leagues of iron fenced camps burnt down.

The returns of the Central Argentine Railway for the last year are very splendid and reflect the general progress of the Interior—

	1881	1882
Traffic.....	1,257,618	1,621,547
Gastos.....	558,331	641,063
Profits.....	689,286	282,433

We doubt if there are many railways in England that can show better returns.

Transandine shares offering in the market; we have no better dividend paying stock.

Mr Arthur Eborall made a large sale of mestizo sheep in the south yesterday, price reserved, buyer leaves town to-day to receive them; he has also some fine properties in the south for sale, at very cheap prices.

Mr Tornquist left this morning for his estancia Bahia Blanca, by Southern Railway; on 24th April he leaves with his family for Fatherland; he well merits the trip.

At the National Bank business has so much increased, that there is hardly standing room in the cashier's office. There was nothing new this morning about the Alkaine proposal, but the bulls report that at 1 o'clock Messrs. Acosta and Alkaine were interviewing Dr. Pacheco.

Telegrams from London to some of the houses were talked of on 'Change, the nature of the messages bearing some connection with the reduction of the Provincial Bank drawing rate of exchange. In the immediate circle of merchants and bankers in London connected with the Plate, the drop in the rate by the Provincial Bank is not relished.

It rained at Fray Bentos yesterday 4 hours, 1½ inch water fell in the camps; the rains in the far north camps also were very heavy. Mr Kimball got wet to the skin, visiting his land on the Venado Tuerto.

The Vasconia is expected up in the morning.

The steamer Rio Janeiro has been put in quarantine in Montevideo, 24 hours.

Four leagues of Venado Tuerto camp sold to-day for $250,000 $% per league; this land was bought at the auction for $180,000 $% per league.

1,500 head of cattle "al corte" sold at Pergamino, "mestizo rodeo", $200 $%. Seller Mr. Grondona; buyer Belgian Estancia Co. on Venado Tuerto.

The late Mr. Arias, we understand, died worth 20 millions, of which 5 millions cash and 15 millions book debts.

It may interest many to know that 100 yards of an arched vinery in Flores gave 75 arrobas grapes, which were sold at $24 $% per arroba and money paid to the housekeeper today.

The Montevidean steamers are very severe in their rules; not only they refuse to enter the Boca, but also they refuse to accept National Bank notes as gold.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 4,000 at 100⅛
For cash E 4,250 at 85⅛-⅜
For March 31st E 30,000 at 85⅛-⅜
Sales, 38,250

National Bank Shares—
For March 31st 1,250 103-⅜-103 ex div.

Municipal Bonds 6 o/o—
For March 31st 8,000 at 84

All stocks on 'Change to-day ruled dull. National Bank Shares held their own at 103 ex-dividend; but there is no business doing. The stock, however, is very firm, and resists the efforts of the bears. Cedulas A are much offered; the stock has no future. People are selling out at ⅛ premium to buy Series E that is supposed to have a great future. It is thought A will be at par before the week closes, and, if all goes right in London, E will be at 92 before Monday. Gas Shares very hard. The Argentine Gas Company, we hear, is about to call a meeting of shareholders, and will pay a 10 per cent. dividend; some of this stock offering. Old Gas Shares in demand and looking up. New Municipal Bonds coming fast on the market, and selling at 84 which is 6 per cent discount, as the Bonds are paid out at 90.

A fire occurred on board the ss. Rio Grande, on her way from Rio to Rio Grande; it caused much alarm. The steamer unloaded her cargo at San Francisco and was then completely overhauled.

Mr. Ferrari arrived up to-day from Montevideo. Several parties leave in these days for renewed sea-bathing at Pocitos.

At afterhours there was much of a flurry in the liquidation-room, caused by the news that the National Bank Loan was done to-day simultaneously at Buenos Ayres, Paris and London at 85. At first some few believed the news, but the stock hung fire at 103⅛ ex div.; 100 shares sold at that rate, and sellers offering freely at same. We believe the news is premature. The Board of Directors rejected the application to pay up the calls and take the shares up cash; yet even this news put no new life into the market. Cedulas closed at five o'clock at 85⅜; some lots sold.

The death of Mr. Daniel Gowland, one of the oldest Englishmen in the River Plate, was announced on 'Change. Another link with the old English Buenos Ayres generation gone. Deceased was much esteemed by all, and played in former years many prominent parts in this country. His death will throw some of the first families of this city into mourning.

Mr. John McColl, of Montevideo, was enveloped in friends when he entered the hall; he leaves to-night for the Mount.

Exchange on Montevideo passed to-day at 1¼ premium.

Mr. Meyers leaves for Europe shortly. Mr Crowther and family sail in Maskelyne on Sunday. Mr. J. P. Boyd has resumed his old corner on 'Change after an interlude of many years; all his old friends—and their names are legion—welcome him back.

The wool train on the Western Railway was not unloaded this morning, hence a small selection and not much done; but we hear of one buyer yesterday who emptied three barracas. The good news from the U. States will put a fresh spurt into wool.

Exchange: American paper done at 49½. Some bills still to be had, they say at or near ⅝. About £35,000 in sterling and 2½ million francs passed for the Congo.

£20,000 in sovereigns sold afterhours at 1⅛ premium.

Freights stiffer; plenty of cargo, grain and wool offering, and tonnage short. Letters from Rosario and Montevideo for small vessels.

Rates, steamer 25s and 10 o/o
Sailing vessel 18s in full.

Discount brokers report pagarés done at 7 in paper; buyers for June and July offer one cent premium on gold, no sellers.

It is whispered that an agent has arrived out with views to start a semi German bank; fuller particulars to-morrow. Many parties anxious to see him.

Owing to the intense heat to-day there was an unusual display of white coats on 'Change. Some very fashionable brokers consider that white coats should not be worn on 'Change after 2 o'clock.

The Arica papers delivered to-day, but dates no fresher than French packet.

The sales at afterhours were:—

The Anglo-Brazilian Times to hand by mail gives the following:—

"February 9th to 14th, 1883.

"Exchange—

"Rates became firmer and eventually on the 13th the Bank rate was 21 7/16 and the English Banks gave on their Head Offices at 21⅛. Later the same day, however, there being very few private drawers, Banks retired first to 21⅛ and then altogether, the mail closing without any rate being officially published.

"Commercial bills have again been scarce, business in coffee having been limited by the small stock. Rates from 21⅛ to 21⅛

"A fair amount of business has been done on France. Private bills have been passed at rates from 437 to 442 reis and Banks have drawn at from 444 to 446 reis per franc.

"The Board of Brokers' report of business in last 16 days of January was:—

£1,179,061 at 21 to 21⅛d.
Fr.673,830 at 443 to 428 reis.
Rm.328,000 at 557 to 535 do.

Tambien venderemos 20 bueyes muy mansos, 30 vacas lecheras, arados, maquinas de cortar pasto, rastrillos y demas utiles del Establecimiento.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y sin limitacion de ninguna clase, los mas afamados campos de la Provincia de Santa Fe conocidos por Loreto distantes unicamente 25 leguas de Pergamino, 6 de la colonia Iriondo, 10 de la colonia Alvear (La Teodolina) 13 de la Estacion Tortugas del Ferro Carril Central Argentino, 16 de la Cañada de Gomez, Estacion del mismo Ferro Carril y entre el Ferro Carril de Clark, el proyectado ramal del F. C. del O. desde el Pergamino al Rio 4° y el Oeste Sandafesino. Estos campos lindan con los famosos y conocidos del Venado Tuerto y con estancias, como la de los Sres Ostendorp y Ca., Diego Alvear, heredero de Armstrong y otros.

Los campos que acaba de vender el Gobierno de la Provincia a 400,000$ estan mas distantes de la Capital que estos que ofrecemos en venta.

Ademas con la rapidez que se estan construyendo los Ferro Carriles y ramales en la Republica demuestran claramente que en un corto tiempo la poblacion va a estenderse extraordinariamente y entonces toda la propiedad rural tiene que triplicar en valor, de manera que cuando llegue a venderse el ultimo plazo el comprador se encontrara con una propiedad valiosa.

La calidad del campo se garante igual al Venado Tuerto por lo tanto creemos inutil entrar en mayores descripciones sobre el terreno, sus pastos etc, ademas la persona que quiera ver y examinarlos puede toma la Galera que va del Pergamino al Hinojo ocurriendo por la pasage gratis al Sr D. Eduardo Casey Reconquista num. 80.

El campo sera dividido en lotes de ½ (media) legua teniendo el comprador el derecho de tomar cuatro leguas por el mismo precio.

Todos los lotes seran vendidos sin reserva de ninguna clase al mas alto postor y el pago se hara una cuarta parte al contado y el resto en cuatro anualidades con el 7 o/o de interes.

Los planos de estos campos podran obtenerse del 20 del corriente Febrero en adelante ocurriendo a casa del Sr D. Eduardo Casey num. 80, o a nuestra casa Alsina 78.

NOTA—No olvidarse que el remate se efectuara aqui en la Capital Calle Alsina 78.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado, por orden terminante de su dueño, los campos arriba mencionados, situados en la Secciones III y IX de territorios Nacionales letras D. y C. numeros 11, 15 y 20.

El area total se compone de 10 leguas kilometricas, que pueden facilmente dividirse en 2 fracciones, una de 4 y la otra de 6 leguas y si los interesados los desean en lotes de dos leguas.

Esta seccion es una de las mas pobladas, debido a la bondad de sus pastos y calidad de sus tierras, adecuados para la cria del ganado vacuno y lanar.

Esta campo dista 3 leguas del pueblo General Acha, donde existen fuerzas Nacionales, y sabido es la importancia que tiene la inmediacion de un pueblo en estas alturas para que entremos aqui a demostrarlo.

Al costado mismo esta un Establecimiento, parte alambrado, del Sr. D Augusto Escandy, poblado por el señor Capdeville, con 2,500 vacas, 500 yeguas, y 3000 ovejas y los otros linderos son:

Augusto Escandy, Simon, Obligado, Hurtado y Martinez A. Meabe y otros.

Sin contar un numero crecido de nuevos poladores que estan esperando que llueva para llevar las haciendas que tienen ya compradas.

Creemos por demas llamar la atencion de los interesados sobre la importancia que tendran estos campos una vez terminada la linea del Ferro Carril del Sud a Bahia Blanca.

Demostradas todas las ventajas solo nos queda decir que la base de ps. 30,000 $\frac{m}{n}$/c por legua fijada para la venta es sumamente baja, en vista de las recientes ventas que se han hecho de campos situados mucho mas afuera.

Los interesados pueden ocurrir a nuestra casa Alsina 78 para tomar mayores datos sobre estos campos.

La poblacion se esta extendiendo rapidamente hacia este lado y con los Ferros Carriles ya en construccion van a tomar muy pronto un valor incalculable.
